Greatest U. S. Warship, To Be Launched Today

The U. S. S. California, Uncle Sam's greatest super-dreadnaught, as she will appear when speeding under full headway. The California will carry the heaviest armament of any fighting craft afloat, and will be driven through the water by electricity. The launching, which will take place today at the Mare Island navy yard, California, promises to attract more attention than any similar event since the war. The vessel will probably become the new flagship of the Pacific fleet under Admiral Hugh Rodman. Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, daughter of Governor Stevens, will be sponsor.

BRANDS OBJECTORS 'PLAIN SLACKERS'

Only Small Minority Really "Conscientious," States Inspector General in Report.

The great majority of the so-called conscientious objectors culled from the American army were just plain slackers. This is the statement of the Inspector General of the Army, in his annual report to Secretary Baker today.

A small minority, the report said, were loyal men, willing to do any service which did not involve killing a fellow man, but most of the objectors were "undoubtedly slackers" who were disloyal and availed themselves of this pretext to escape service.

The personnel of the American army in the war was praised. Its discipline, care, and general work was declared satisfactory. The arms and equipment, including the famous Browning automatic rifles and machine guns, were declared superior to anything possessed by other powers at the time of the armistice.

While praising generally the conditions at West Point, the Inspector General noted the fact that there has been considerable "hazing" of cadets in the past year, to the detriment of academic work.

War prison barracks and disciplinary barracks were considered satisfactory with few exceptions.

Discipline of our forces abroad suffered a relaxation after the armistice which was not confined to any one rank, the report noted. The multi-talented of mutiny among American troops in Siberia was minimized.

Four Civic Bodies Urge Congress Be Asked For New N. E. High School

Presidents of four civic associations in the vicinity of Eckington yesterday requested the Board of Education to ask Congress to erect a new high school in the northeast.

Selden M. Ely, president of the North Capitol and Eckington Citizens' Association, headed the delegation which pointed out to members of the board the need for a new educational institution in the northeast.

George A. Ross, president of the High School Teachers' Association, addressed the board asking that immediate relief in the matter of salary increases be granted teachers until the reclassification of salaries was completed. The association favors an increase of about 50 per cent and has adopted resolutions to this effect.

The board was in receipt of a communication from the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, an organization composed of 1,700 men. The order formally protested against the appointment of Yung Kwal, captain of the Central High School cadet company, and asked his demotion.

Kwal's Chinese nationality was the main objection set forth by the order. After the resolution of the order was read Superintendent of Schools Thurston said: "I still stand firmly on Kwal's record as a cadet," and Dr. John Van Schaick, president of the board, referred to Kwal as the splendid young captain.

After the resolution of the order was read Superintendent of Schools Thurston said: "I still stand firmly on Kwal's record as a cadet," and Dr. John Van Schaick, president of the board, referred to Kwal as the splendid young captain.

Mr. Ely presented figures designed to show the growth of the northeast and the increase in the enrollment in the high schools. He said that the new Eastern High School would be unable to handle the increased number of students that would be in the schools within three years.

The board took the petitions of these associations under advisement and Dr. Van Schaick told the delegation that the board would seriously consider the recommendation.

Would Change Name. A citizen from Brookland wrote the board asking for permission to change the name of Brookland school to "Brookland Memorial School," and for permission to put a memorial tablet, honoring soldiers of the school who died in the war. The board granted permission to erect the tablet and referred the other request to the District Commissioners.

The Piney Branch Citizens' Association asked the board to increase the equipment of the West School to relieve the present congestion.

The Hubbard-Horne School Association donated seventy-five chairs to the Hubbard School, which were accepted with thanks by the board.

SCHWAB CONFIDENT OF U. S. STABILITY

Steel Magnate Believes Bolshevism and Kindred Ills Won't Take Root.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—Returning from a three-week vacation in California, Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate and chairman of the United States Shipping Board, spent an hour here early today on his way East. While he declined to discuss labor questions, Mr. Schwab appeared willing to talk on anything else.

On industrial conditions Mr. Schwab declared himself more than optimistic and asserted that he was going ahead with all his plans with unlimited faith in the future stability of America.

As to Bolshevism, socialism, and kindred schemes, the steel magnate voiced the opinion that no such doctrines would take root here, but admitted that the threat that they carry to the Government and American life seems apparent.

TAKE 6 BOYS AFTER 60-CENT HOLD-UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Six boys, aged nine to sixteen, were locked up in the Tremont station last night, after they had run from the basement of a building in the Bronx. There, the police say, they beat John Tally, sixteen, a collector, and took from him about 60 cents, overlooking a larger amount. The police say the boys were "the toughest looking" ever brought here in reform school.

Patrolman Pepper, of the Tremont station, heard yells coming from the basement, and a few seconds later saw six boys dart up the stairs and run into the Honeywell avenue. Pepper pursued them, drew his revolver, and ordered the boys to halt.

At the police station the boys said they were John Rosa, twelve; John Beito, nine; Rudolph Presco, eleven; Salvatore Nova, twelve; Prisco Brown, eleven, all of Harlem.

According to the police, Tally said the boys had followed him most of the afternoon. The police say, they admitted the hold-up, and said they were not sorry. Ronaldo was charged with assault and robbery, and the others with juvenile delinquency.

AMERICANS IN CHINA HIT BY SILVER RISE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The rising price of silver to new records is seriously contributing to the high cost of living of American citizens in China, according to experts here versed in Far Eastern conditions.

It has cut the purchasing value of American gold in half, which, in addition to the rising cost of commodities, hit foreigners, but the rising value of silver offsets to the Chinese the increased cost of commodities.

The normal value of the Mexican dollar, a standard in trade in the Far East, is 43 cents. Today's New York quotations show its value to the dollar as three-fourths. Likewise the Chinese silver tael shows a corresponding increase in value.

Employees and a majority of commercial representatives in China are protected in a measure by arrangements of their pay, which is half in gold and half in silver at the exchange rate. Thus their pay today, although at the same rate as four years ago, a really one-fourth less in purchasing value despite the increased prices of commodities.

AMERICA'S BIGGEST WARSHIP LAUNCHED

Widow of Hero of Belleau Wood Christens Mighty Superdreadnaught.

MARE ISLAND NAVY YARD, Cal. Nov. 20.—America launched its greatest superdreadnaught here today. The mighty U. S. S. California took the waves with a grace that befitted her own slightly lines, slid out into a placid and sheltered bay amid the tumultuous shouts of thousands, and was "roped" by tugs who returned her to the Government pier.

General Pershing and was decorated by him with the Distinguished Service Cross. Great Armament Carried.

The greatest armament carried by any vessel in the world is aboard the U. S. S. California. Twelve fourteen-inch guns, fifty caliber breechloading rifles they are called; four submerged torpedo tubes, twenty-five two-inch rapid fire guns, four six-pounders, two one-pounders, four three-inch anti-aircraft guns, one three-inch landing gun, and thirty-caliber machine guns stand in readiness to protect the American flag whenever and wherever called upon.

One thousand and twenty men with fifty-eight officers, will comprise the "normal" complement of this mighty superdreadnaught.

The keel of the California was laid October 25, 1916, but during the war work was rushed here and in a majority of the Government yards on smaller vessels to combat the submarine. For that reason not a rivet was driven in the California for many months. After the signing of the armistice work was immediately recommenced and today the vessel was launched.

Ship's Dimensions. Her dimensions are: Length over all, 624 feet; breadth, 96 feet; depth, 47 feet 2 inches; mean draft, 30 feet 2 inches; displacement at full draft, 23,000 tons; speed, 21 knots (12 hours); fuel oil capacity, 1,900 tons.

The great war enabled naval experts to devote considerable study to improvements for battleships and as a result the California is declared absolutely immune against submarines or mines. Her protection over and above that of the best of battleships prior to the war would average 30 per cent.

Her main engines are electrically driven, the generators being driven by steam turbines of 28,000 horsepower. The steam is utilized by oil-burning water tube boilers.

Two firing cages, located in the huge steel masts, control the work of the great guns, an improvement that also was a lesson from the world war.

It is an "electric" ship. The firing of the guns, the ventilators, the steering gear, the machine that supplies power to the drive shaft, a potato peeling machine capable of handling 1,000 potatoes in an hour, laundry machines, printing presses, ice cream freezers, kitchen and cake machines, dough mixers and dish washers—all electrically operated.

The huge range of her massive fourteen-inch guns would permit the California to "lie in wait" eighteen miles off shore from any point of intended attack, below the horizon of the ocean itself, and drop its shells into a city. Coast stations could not return the fire without the assistance of airplanes. Before other ships could reach her she could do extreme damage and move away.

Immense Gun Power. The power alone from one broadside of all her guns is sufficient to hurl six massive touring cars from Sandy Hook to New York city.

If she fired a shell from one of her largest guns, pointed directly into the air, it would reach a height of five and three-fourth miles, or nearly twice as high as Pike's Peak in Colorado.

The keel of the superdreadnaught Montana will be laid immediately on the ways upon which the California was "born." At the time the contract was awarded the keel of the U. S. S. Tennessee was laid in an eastern navy yard, but, as stated, work was delayed on the California. Construction of the Tennessee proceeded and today that vessel holds, with the New Mexico, the distinction of being the largest battleship afloat.

MD. WIDOW IS SHOT WHILE ON AUTO TRIP

Both Woman and Companion on Ride Declare Shooting Was Accidental.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 20.—Mrs. Ethel Bostetter, twenty, whose husband, Lester Bostetter, committed suicide here last June in a moment of despondency, due to illness, is at the Washington County Hospital, with a bullet wound in her neck. It is said, through an accident while she and Lynn Full, clerk, twenty-five, were automobiling. Mystery surrounds the affair.

Full, who gave bond today for a hearing Thursday, charged with carrying concealed weapons, before Justice Hartman, asserted that while handling a revolver, it was accidentally discharged. When he found Mrs. Bostetter was wounded, he took her home, and later removed her to the hospital. Mrs. Bostetter declared to Sheriff Samuel Starlinger that the shooting was purely accidental.

PAJAMAS AS STREET ATTIRE. BUCHAREST, Nov. 20.—More than 400,000 suits of pajamas have been distributed among the people of the Balkan States by the American Red Cross. There has been a great scarcity of clothing in all the countries since the systematic looting of the Balkans during the war, and while a great many of the pajamas have been put to their intended use as hospital garments, a considerable proportion of them have been turned into actual, everyday clothing for children, women, and even men.

Court Orders Parents to Observe Pair of Delinquent Youngsters.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 20.—Less than a month ago Judge James Young's courtroom: blows, blows, more blows and more cries and Judge Young sat placidly in his chamber and the glint of a smile was seen on his face as he noted in the corner of one of his eyes. That pale sound good to him.

A little earlier two boys, Ray Parkinson and Michael Bricke, had been arraigned before him upon various charges. After hearing the case the court sentenced the youthful culprits to be soundly spanked by their respective parents, the punishment to continue until both the culprits and Mrs. D. J. Fitzmaurice, probation officer, cried "Huh."

The note from the assessor sounded good to Judge Young because he believed it was the loud but wordless announcement that two youngsters were about to seek the straight and narrow path.

PALACE NOW HOSPITAL. CETTINJE, Nov. 20.—Montenegrins wounded in border fighting or killed found a new home back to health in an American Red Cross hospital, located in the former palace of the Crown Prince at Cetinje. The prince's old home was taken over by the Austrians six months ago, as a military hospital and dispensary. Thousands of patients have already been given free treatment there.
